

Housing prices in the Lubuskie

This report determines the average price per square meter of flats in the Lubuskie region. The time period covers the years from 2017 to 2021 broken down into quarters.

The highest price was PLN 5215 in Q4 2021. This was the last period studied. The lowest price was PLN 3424 in Q2 2017.

In the first period under review, the price was PLN 3724, while in the last period the price was PLN 5215. The price in the analyzed period increased by PLN 1491.

The biggest change in price between the quarters under study occurred between Q2 2020 and Q3 2020. The value in this period increased by PLN 824.

Average price and number of sold apartments

The chart shows the ratio of the average price of flats per 1 m2 to the number of flats sold. As the starting index, the first analyzed period, 2017 Q1 = 100%.

In the analyzed period, the decrease or increase in the sale of flats most often had the opposite effect on the price of flats per 1 m2.